

MERCHANTS HEAVILY STOCKED--DOLLARS HAVE BIG PURCHASING POWER IN MACLEOD

ASUTRALIAN GOVERNMENT RETURNED

MELBOURNE, Nov. 16.—The government of Australia has been returned in the federal general election with a big majority in the house of representatives and a working majority in the senate. The latest figures announced forty-eight government seats out of a total of 75 in the house of representatives and 27 to the Labor party. The election passed off quietly. It is possible the result will be known today, but the count is not expected to be completed before next week.

Premier Bruce was victorious in his own constituency, winning his seat over a Socialist candidate by a vote of 28,599 to 17,318.

An Early Report

LONDON, Nov. 16.—Reuter's Melbourne forecast, based on election returns up to an early hour November 15 gives 46 seats to the government against 28 labor in the new parliament. Ex-premier Hughes was re-elected.

Senate Race is Close

MELBOURNE, Nov. 16.—The chief interest in the federal general election at present is centered on the senate where both sides profess to be confident of victory. The government's position with regard to Saturday's vote appears to be more favorable of the two today, but it is difficult to estimate what effect the compulsory voting will have on the government's position when the returns are all in.

The Melbourne Argus points out that several labor candidates who ran in safe seats were returned with reduced majorities, while many government candidates had largely increased majorities. Several candidates including Premier Bruce and former Premier Hughes, and J. I. Latham, who supported the government in the election campaign, were re-elected by majorities greater than the total votes cast for them in the election of 1922.

ADMIRALTY ADMITS LOSS OF SUBMARINE

PLYMOUTH, Nov. 13.—The British monitor-submarine M-1, with 68 officers and men on board, is believed to be lying helpless on the ocean bed southwest of Start Point, Devonshire, in 240 feet of water.

Word that the submarine, missing since early yesterday, had been found was received here from the commander of the searching squadron.

The news carried a heart-breaking significance, for it is believed that rescue of the crew by divers or attempts to raise the great hull would be impossible, because of the tremendous pressure at that depth. Messages from Weymouth, supplanting the one reporting the discovery of the submarine, said that the hull believed to be her, was located by the use of a hydrophone, used by anti-submarine craft.

Experts here recognize the difficulty of being certain that the submerged body encountered is actually the M-1. That part of the coast is the graveyard of many boats sent to the bottom by German submarines during the war.

LONDON, Nov. 14.—The admiralty has sent to the relatives of the crew the following message:

"The circumstances in which the submarine disappeared leave room for no doubt that your son (or husband) lost his life with the rest of the crew."

Throughout the night the fleet of searching ships kept vigil on the spot where the M-1 is believed to lie on the ocean bed at a depth of 240 feet.

Early this morning four mine sweepers resumed their dragging in an effort to make contact with the submarine. The parent ship Maidstone also joined with a magnetic reflecting apparatus, reflecting the distance and direction of a magnetic object to be traced.

Salvage vessels with lifting apparatus are on the spot, but they admit it would be an almost hopeless task to bring her up from such a great depth.

Salute to Victims
It is understood that next week Admiral Sir Henry Thornton, commander of the home fleet, will steam out with all ships in line to offer a last salute to the victims.

A burial service will be held on the spot tomorrow and a memorial service in the little church at the Portland dockyards.

MANY PRESENTATIONS TO RED DEER RECTOR WHO GOES TO MACLEOD

(Red Deer Advocate)

On Sunday evening Rev. G. McComas, M.A., who leaves today for Macleod, said goodbye to the congregation of St. Luke's Church. There was an extremely large attendance. Mr. McComas took for his text II Peter III, 17-18, the subject being growth in grace, on which he preached a very nice sermon. In closing, he spoke of his work in the parish of St. Luke's during the last four years, acknowledging the loyal support he had received from the various parish organizations, particularly the Women's Auxiliary, the Sunday School and the Choir. He bespoke from the congregation a kindly welcome for his successor, Rev. W. J. Merrick, M.A., who comes from Christ Church, Macleod.

On Thursday evening, the choir took occasion to take leave, officially, of Mr. McComas. They were the guests after the regular weekly practice of Mrs. Arthur Bean, at her home, Victoria Ave. After a pleasant evening of music and cards, Mrs. H. S. Pearson, the choir president, presented to Mr. McComas a handsome engraved brass bowl. The choir leader, Mr. W. F. Harris, and Mr. H. E. Callender spoke appreciatively of the interest Mr. McComas had taken in the choral and social work of the choir. In replying, the Rector thanked the choir for the support they had given him, appealing to them to work just as harmoniously with his successor, and to be progressive as well as loyal.

On Friday evening Mr. and Mrs. McComas were the guests of honor at a farewell party. This time it was at the home of Mr. and Mrs. T. H. Edis—the church wardens, the vestry and their wives being present. On behalf of the church officials, Mrs. McComas was given a beautiful leather handbag, and Mr. McComas an amber-stemmed pipe and a tobacco pouch.

Mr. and Mrs. McComas will be followed to their new sphere of work by the sincere good wishes of the many friends they have made while in Red Deer.

A PROBLEM

A revival was being held in a North Carolina church. The fruits had been considerable. One obstinate soul, however, resisted the efforts of the elder. The recalcitrant one, when called to account, replied:

"Ye see how it is, Parson, I've got a problem. I don't see how I can give my shirt on ovah mah wivins when I gits to Glory."
"Dat ain't yo' problem," retorted the exhorter. "Yo' problem is how yo' gwine get yo' hat on ovah yo' horns."

REDUCED GRAIN RATES TO COAST STILL IN EFFECT

OTTAWA, Nov. 12.—Decision by the Board of Railway Commissioners as to whether the recent order signed by Chief Commissioner H. A. McKeown calling on the railways to put into effect similar rates on grain and flour moving westward as those now in effect on these commodities moving east shall be rescinded, is not likely to be rendered for two weeks at least.

Assistant Chief Commissioner McKeown, Commissioner Lawrence and Vian are at present in the west conducting Lean and Commissioners Boyce and Oliver, who heard the application for revision last month, together with sittings of the board. The three commissioners now in the prairie provinces are not likely to return to Ottawa until November 28.

MACLEOD UNITED CHURCH
NOTES

Rev. Wm. H. Irwin, Pastor.

On Sunday, November 22nd, the preacher of the day will be the Rev. T. T. Faichney, of Knox Church, Leithbridge. His morning subject will be "The Contribution of the Presbyterian Church to the United Church of Canada." In the evening he will speak on "Seeking After God." The Rev. Irwin, of the Macleod Church, will take the evening service in Knox Church Leithbridge.

On Tuesday evening, November 24th, an Induction Service will be held in the Church, which is open to the general public. Speakers will be present from all points of the Leithbridge Presbytery, notably Rev. T. T. Faichney, chairman, Norman Prestley, secretary, H. B. Pearson, John Garden, and others.

The regular Brotherhood supper will be held on Tuesday evening at 6:30, when the visiting delegation will be the special guests. The Rev. Bob Pearson, M.L.A., of Leithbridge, will give a short address, and the program committee are preparing to give the visitors a good time.

Miss Ethel Cahoon has organized a Junior C.G.T. Group which meets on Friday evenings and is going strong.

The C.S.E.T. Boys are displaying their new crests, which are the gift of the Men's Brotherhood. The following boys have been awarded the special Trail Rangers' Badge for proficiency in Safety First: Eric and Walter Crowson, Sabo Lantinga, Jack Fansett, Frank McNab, Jeffery Young, Frank Brooks, Donald Sutherland, Eugene Hewitt. The Special Badge for Star Guide has been awarded Roy Rand.

In the Provincial Share Selling Campaign of the C.S.E.T. Eugene Hewitt is the first to report the sale of a complete book of shares. The Tuxis Boys hope to initiate a couple of new candidates this week.

The Men's Brotherhood are equipping the church with a moving picture machine, which will be installed this week. The hope is to provide pictures of an educational and uplifting character for the young people of the community at minimum cost. They hope to present a six-reel entertainment once a week.

A Baptismal and Reception Service is pending and all wishing to unite with the church, or any having children to be baptized are asked to communicate with the pastor. The Sunday School children are preparing a Musical Cantata for Christmas.

It is agreed that the Mock Town Council meet over stronger than the Mock Trial notwithstanding the smaller crowd of spectators. Every part was well taken and the skits were of the rapid fire order and were too numerous to mention. The election speeches brought down the house, and the specials which included classical numbers from Mr. Neal on the violin, and a quartette, were of a high order. The Brotherhood are grateful to all who assisted in any way to make the evening a success. The proceeds will be a gift to the Macleod Band.

THE EMPRESS THEATRE -- CURRENT ATTRACTIONS

UNIQUE RACE SCENE IN PARAMOUNT PRODUCTION, "NOT SO LONG AGO"—LARRY WHEAT TRIES TO SHOW UP FIRST "HORSELESS CARRIAGE BY BEATING IT ON FOOT"—"SAUTO" BLOWS UP—ALL BETS OFF.

What is probably the most unique racing scene ever put upon the screen will be seen in "Not So Long Ago," Sidney Olcott's newest production for Paramount, featuring Betty Bronson and Ricardo Cortez, Empress on Friday and Saturday.

The race, which is between the first horseless carriage ever invented and a man on foot, takes place on Fifth Avenue in New York, to determine one and for all whether the new invention will ever be used by the public.

Betty Bronson's father, Dan Crimmins, has degenerated from the position of a once wealthy man to that of a poverty-stricken inventor who spends his entire time over an absurd horseless carriage.

Betty a Seamstress
To support her father, Betty Bronson was as a seamstress in a fashionable Fifth Avenue mansion. Betty is romantic and young and possessed of a vivid imagination. In her enthusiasm for Ricardo Cortez, the son of her employer, she tells Lawrence Wheat, who is in love with her, that Cortez is very fond of her. Wheat, furious, reports to the girl's father, saying that no good can come from the rich boy.

Fearing for the girl's welfare, the two men go to the Cortez house. Miss Bronson overhears their plan, however, and tells Cortez the entire story before they arrive. She tells him that she lied to them about his love for her and begs his forgiveness. To protect the girl, whom he hardly knows, Cortez admits the truth and confesses that he has loved her since she was a child.

Prove it, he asks Betty's father whether he might call some day.

As days go on, Cortez calls again and again. Gradually he falls in love with the girl, despite the fact that she is only a seamstress and he is engaged to marry one of the wealthiest girls in New York.

Meanwhile, the horseless carriage is exhausting the old man's funds. In his enthusiasm to complete his work, he borrows from a money-lender portrayed by Edward Davis. Realizing the possibilities of the invention, forces the man to sign a note that will make the carriage his if the payment cannot be met.

Wheat, jealous of Cortez' constant calling upon Betty, goes to Cortez' mother and informs her of her son's affair with the seamstress. Betty is summoned and the woman upbraids the terrified girl and discharges her. She tells Betty that Cortez is about to marry another girl. Heartbroken and believing Cortez has purposely deceived her, Betty leaves the house.

Note Falls Due

The note on the horseless carriage falls due. The machine is already completed but Betty's father cannot find a purchaser. Just before the money-lender takes over the machine, Wheat claims he can beat the horseless carriage on foot. If he wins, Betty must marry him.

A spectacular race down Fifth Avenue follows—Betty's father in the queer, rattling horseless carriage and Wheat, dressed in an old-fashioned track suit, on foot. The race ends in a terrific explosion which completely shatters the invention. How the old man rebuilds the machine and how Cortez and Betty are again brought together, forms one of the quaintest and most delightful romances of this year's motion picture contributions.

The early Egyptians had bath establishments, safety razors, cosmetics, wig shops and beauty parlors. They enjoyed chariot races, prize fights, tennis, acrobatics, vaudeville and concerts. They made exquisite linens and cottons, wove rugs and carpets, perfected culinary art, and the entire Greek life.

"Would be hard to mention a convenience of modern living that they lacked, outside of the devices based on steam coal, fuel oil and electricity. Instead of gas or electric, they apparently had a strange kind of light that revealed interior decor-

GREENFIELD RESIGNATION IS WITHHELD

EDMONTON, Nov. 18.—It is still "Premier" Greenfield. But it is a position of isolation which cannot continue long. Today Mr. Greenfield was still on the job though his promised resignation is considerably overdue, and fellow cabinet ministers who are well aware of the facts of the case are plainly non-plussed. At the caucus of all the private U.F.A. members of the legislature some weeks ago the premier after calling them together, made a statement of his position, placed his resignation in their hands for consideration and withdrew.

The resignation was accepted by an overwhelming majority of the members after a prolonged caucus.

Resignation Withheld

The resignation was accepted by an overwhelming majority of the members after a prolonged caucus. Apparently also they antedated the invention of gunpowder by using a secret explosive to rive the fifty and hundred-ton blocks of solid stone that are among the marvels of their architecture. The more deeply the subject is delved into, the more it is discovered the Egyptians were three or four thousand years ahead of their time in subduing Nature to the manifold uses of art.

POMEROY EXPLAINS COLOR
PHOTOGRAPHY IN "THE TEN COMMANDMENTS"

Roy J. Pomeroy, technical director of "The Ten Commandments," the Paramount Picture coming to the Empress Theatre on Monday for 4 days explains the marvelous natural color photography of the picture in these words:

"We used what is known as the Technicolor process to film the Egyptian scenes. In them, one sees the children of Israel crossing the desert. The bright barbaric colors of the thousands of people and their animals against the somber grey sands has a remarkable effect on the observer."

"Contrary to earlier developments in the field of color photography, these scenes do not flicker or cause eye-strain, neither do the colors run together. It is as clear as the ordinary film, and has that added novelty of color which takes it out of the stereotyped type of spectacles."

"Engineers and photographers of the Technicolor Company aided us in taking these scenes of 'The Ten Commandments.'"

"When they are combined at the laboratory a red filter eliminates everything from the green film except the green, and a green filter eliminates from the red film all but the red. The two films are then cemented together in such a way that the finished print shows the blue, yellow, orange, gold and straw colors, as well as shades of green and red."

The natural effect would be for one to forget the story and study the colors. But to such a height has the dramatic intensity been maintained, that the color just adds to what already is a powerfully strong picture."

OPENING OF RED SEA SHOWN IN "THE TEN COMMANDMENTS"

Will Rogers, in speaking of his inauguration as President, in case the people of the United States had chosen him instead of Calvin Coolidge, said:

"In my movie contingent I would have had Cecil De Mille (of 'The Ten Commandments' fame) part the waters of the Potomac and let the people west of the river come over. If he divided the Red Sea, it ought to be a cinch to handle the Potomac (it's more a name than a river, anyway)."

Mr. Rogers, like so many others, has been impressed by the marvelous feat of photography in this picture, the parting of the waters to allow the Israelites to pass through.

The waters of the sea actually divide. A path is opened. On the side huge walls of water glisten. The children of Israel walk through and arrive safely on the opposite shore. Pharaoh's chariots follow. They are about to reach safety when the waters close. Men and animals are tossed around and drowned in the angry sea. It is one of those scenes which is breathtaking.

"The Ten Commandments" will be shown at the Empress Theatre for a run of 4 days next Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday.

"THE TEN COMMANDMENTS"
BROKE LONG RUN RECORDS

The picture which broke all long run records at road show prices is coming to the Empress Theatre next Monday when Cecil De Mille's production of "The Ten Commandments" opens a 4 days engagement there at popular prices. Playing the "two-day in New York City" it broke the record of 50 weeks which had been held by "The Covered Wagon," remaining at capacity business for 62 consecutive weeks. "The Birth of a Nation" was only able to last 44 weeks on Broadway, while "Way Down East," "The Four Horsemen," and "The Thief of Bagdad" held up for a lesser period. About five million people have seen this remarkable picture since it was first shown at a Los Angeles scale.

In Los Angeles it held up for 31 weeks, Chicago and Philadelphia 20, Boston 14, San Francisco and Cleveland 8; while in Detroit, Washington and Cincinnati it stayed 5 weeks. Sydney, Australia, played host to it for 30 weeks as did Melbourne, while Paris and Auckland, New Zealand greeted it enthusiastically as it was at the time, played the picture for 4 weeks, with the best seats selling at five dollars each.

PEKIN UNDER MARTIAL LAW:
CHINA'S PRESIDENT QUILTS:
JAPAN IS GREATLY ALARMED

LONDON, Nov. 12.—Anticipating a coup by Feng Yu-Hsiang, the "Christian general" in Pekin, says the Evening News Tokio correspondent, the Japanese cabinet was called in extraordinary session today to consider the protection of Japanese lives and property in the Chinese capital.

It is reported, the correspondent says, that the navy is prepared for any emergency with fast cruisers ready to move at a moment's notice.

Marial Law in Pekin

HONOLULU, Nov. 12.—The Japanese press here reports advice from Pekin which indicate martial law has been declared there and that the president has resigned.

Flee From Pekin

PEKIN, Nov. 12.—Some of the members of the cabinet have resigned and several officials, supporters of Marshal Chang Tso-Lin, the Manchurian war lord, have fled the capital.

Disarm Bodyguard

SHANGHAI, Nov. 12.—With an apparent censorship in effect, the North China Daily News learns from private sources in Pekin that the chief executive Tuan Chi-Jui is practically a prisoner in the hands of Feng Yu-Hsiang, the Christian general.

The report coincides with an East-Asian News Agency message from Pekin that Feng decided to disarm Tuan's bodyguard with the object of taking Tuan into custody on the plea of guarding him.

There are contradictory reports regarding Feng's attitude, but the general belief is that he has definitely broken with Chang Tso-Lin, while his most powerful lieutenant, General Yueh Wei-Chun, governor of Tonan, is reported to have thrown in his lot with the allied Yang Tse forces.

PEKIN, Nov. 14.—The danger of fighting in the vicinity of Pekin between rival military chiefs has been averted for the time being.

The chief executive, Tuan Chi-Jui, is telegraphically informed by Marshal Chang Tso-Lin that, in order to preserve peace, he is willing to withdraw his troops from around Pekin to Tien Tsien and to the north.

The Manchurian war lord's troops near the capital are in fact already in motion, some being in the course of withdrawal while others have already boarded trains for Mukden. In addition, the Mukden authorities are removing their army headquarters to a spot 16 miles to the east.

Chang Tso-Lin's action has caused great surprise in foreign circles.

Some days elapsed after the members went home and still the formal resignation was not forthcoming.

The special committee of five consisting of Speaker McPherson, J. C. Buckley, chief whip, G. N. Johnston, A. B. Claypool and George MacLellan, two weeks ago came in to the capital to ascertain the situation.

To this committee Premier Greenfield gave further assurance of his intention to step down in favor of Attorney-General Brownlee and indicated that they might go home again with the assurance that he would retire in favor of Mr. Brownlee, when the latter recovered from his illness.

Stays on the Job

Mr. Brownlee is back on the job but Mr. Greenfield stays at his own desk and makes no declaration as to when he is going to yield up the position.

A stitch at nine may prevent a rip at ten.

ALMOST 200
COUNTER WITH BANDITS
NEAR DAMASCUS

BEIRUT, Syria, Nov. 14.—One hundred and fifty bandits and forty Maronites have been killed during an attack of brigands on the village of Kawkawo, near Hasbaya. The information comes from French sources.

When the battle ended the munitions of the villagers were exhausted and they retired toward Mardjayoun, where large French forces are concentrating in order to prevent the retreat of the bandits.

The French understood that the bandits have treated women and children with the utmost cruelty.

Damascus is described as no longer menaced except for 250 brigands who have been levying tribute on outlying villages and for a band roaming to the northward of Damascus.

INCOME TAX REDUCTIONS

The United States Congress has started work on the promised reduction in the income taxes. This is especially interesting to Canada because we live alongside the United States and cannot afford to have our taxes conspicuously higher than those which attracts the "exodus."

Hence Canadians are interested in knowing what is going on. The U.S. income tax rates are already lower than ours, but the House Ways and Means Committee proposes to make them still lower.

For instance, the exemption from all taxation may be increased to $1,000 for single persons and to $3,500 for heads of families. Our exemptions only reach $1,000 for single persons and $2,000 for heads of families. This will be a great lure for heads of families earning between $2,000 and $3,500.

The exemption for children is now $400 in the United States, and the age limit may be raised to twenty-one.

Our normal rate on the first $4,000 of taxable income is 4 per cent. The U.S. rate is only 2 per cent and it is proposed to reduce it to 1½ per cent. Our normal rate above the first four thousand of taxable income is 8 per cent.

The U.S. rate is now only 4 per cent on the second $4,000, and it is proposed to reduce even this to 3 per cent. Above that limit, the rate in the States is now 6 per cent and the plan is to reduce it to 5 per cent, as against our steady rate of 8 per cent.

This is a condition of things that cannot be allowed to last. The comparison is too heavy against us.

ANKLE AGONY

A sad sad story comes over the cable from London. Dainty shoes, gossamer stockings and abbreviated skirts have combined to create a new ailment which has been named "ankle agony," because it takes the form of swollen, inflamed and painful ankles.

The future is full of gloom. For, according to the celebrated specialists who congregate in Harley Street, there is but one effective antidote. That is the triple and simultaneous application of thick-soled shoes, woollen stockings, and longer skirts.

The mere thought of such a procedure is sufficient to bring about a violent reaction on the part of those who contemplate the cure.

Let us relieve the fair sex of ankle agony, by all means, but surely medical science has learned enough by now to avoid any such gauche and impolite suggestions as the abandonment of those weapons whereby lovely woman holds mere man her submissive slave!

LETTER OF THANKS

To the Electors,
Federal riding of Macleod,
Ladies and Gentlemen:

I trust that you will all accept my hearty and sincere thanks for the splendid support which was accorded me during the late federal election. I realize that many of you laid aside your past political affiliations for the purpose of voting for me. I will ever remember the kindness with which I was received at all the places which I was able to reach. Unfavorable weather and lack of time prevented me from getting in touch with many of the electors.

I hope to be able to meet you all again on some future occasion and would ask you all, in the meantime, to accept my hearty thanks and good wishes.

yours sincerely,

JOHN HERRON.

OBITUARY

DEATH OF MATHEW McNAUGHT

The community was startled on Monday evening to hear of the unexpected death of Mathew McNaught, a long time resident of this district, and one much respected by a large circle of friends. He was one of the early pioneers, having taken up land here in 1883.

He was born in Owen Sound nearly 76 years ago, moving to North Dakota when a young man, but a few years later came to Western Canada, and saw active service in the suppression of the Riel rebellion.

Last spring an internal ailment made an operation necessary which seemed but to stay the disease temporarily, his health being gradually undermined, though he never was confined to bed, his indomitable spirit, and cheery optimism never seeming to falter till the end.

There are no immediate relatives now living, but there are a number of nieces and nephews residing here and elsewhere. Miss McNaught, a niece, has lived with him since the early days of his residence here.

He was a member of the Masonic order and was buried with masonic honors at Granum on Wednesday afternoon.

Orval Hapenstall, of Granum, was a visitor at the Brown ranch last week.

Mrs. Fred Burgess and family, from Ashvale, was the guests of her father T. G. Bratton last week.

E. Walker was a Macleod visitor to the Veteran's Smoker on the 11th.

Disconsolate One: "I wish I were dead!"

Consoler: "Why don't you marry her—or did you?"

COMPASS POINTS IN DIFFERENT DIRECTIONS

Compass Inventor Unknown
The invention of the compass is lost in the dawn of history. It is first found mentioned in a quaint Chinese legend which relates that the Emperor Ho-ang-ti in 2634 B.C. led forth his army and attacked the rebel Khing on the plains of Tchou-lou. But Khing, getting the worst of the conflict, called the wizards, magicians and sorcerers to his aid who raised a great fog to hide Khing and his army. Then the Emperor, not to be outdone, in his turn used the greater magic of the compass, which led his army through the great fog so that he was able to overcome Khing and capture him.

Led Way to New World
The compass to have been brought to Europe in the twelfth century, most probably by the Arabians, as it is known that the Arabian and Chinese traders met in the Persian Gulf, and on account of its great practical value as a guide in all weathers, it rapidly came into general use and enabled Christopher Columbus to sail straight west from Spain, by day and by night, through fair and stormy weather, to the discovery of the New World.

Does Not Point North
But contrary to story book report, the compass does not point north, but more or less to the east or west at different places. Scientists state that this is because the magnetic poles of the earth are not situated at the geographical poles as shown on our maps of the world; that in fact the north magnetic pole is near Boothia Felix on the Arctic coast of Canada, and the south magnetic pole in South Victoria in Land south from New Zealand.

Survey Necessary
In order that the compass may be used with reliance, therefore, the different countries of the world carry out magnetic surveys to measure its direction, and picture the information on magnetic charts for compass users.

First Work in Canada
Compass information is particularly valuable in such a large new country as Canada, and it is interesting to note that Champlain measured its direction at Halifax about 1604, John Davis in Davis Strait 1585 and Capt. Baffin in Baffin Land 1616, Capt. Middleton at Churchill and York Factory 1725; while Capt. Cook in 1778 and Capt. Vancouver in 1792 measured it along the Pacific coast. Later Sir John Franklin 1819-25 and Sir John Lefroy 1843-46 made some measurements, but comparatively little was done in Canada before 1887.

Canada's Magnetic Survey
Since 1880, however, the Topographical Survey Department of the Interior, has carried on a most extensive magnetic survey in this country in conjunction with its other work, at practically no expense, because the compass direction can be measured in a few minutes when the survey parties are already on the ground; until it now possesses more than 20,000 measurements, and

There's Only One Kraft Cheese

SMP ENAMELED TEA KETTLE

The very feel of it will make you want to own it. It balances so nicely, seems to be just right. The handle is rigid and does not tip around like a hinged handle. That means no slipping, scalded hands or accidents. See how you fill it? You lift the hinged lid and can fill it right under the tap or by dipper because the opening is at the side, not the centre. Most important, these new up-to-date kettles cost no more than the old fashioned kettle.

regularly publishes magnetic maps Her parents had christened her Mary.

But the 'r' she declared quite a flaw; She changed it to May, Then married one day, And now it's been shortened to Ma!

Loads Yet Today
In spite of the fact that the compass has been known for so long, it is today more widely employed than ever before; it is the sure-fire pathfinder, the cloud by day and the pillar of fire by night to the sailor aloft on the heaving main; the airman above the hiding clouds; the miner far underground in the deepest shaft; and explorers, surveyors, hunters, trappers, prospectors, pioneers and travellers penetrating the trackless forest, the jumbled mountains, the virgin wilderness, and the Far North.

Riddles Yet Unsolved
But the compass still has hidden secrets. Elusive earth currents and stubborn static still act the part of highwaymen and hold up our friends the telegraph and wireless and radio. We know these highwaymen are in the nature of first cousins to the dancing northern lights and magnetic storms that torture the compass, and black cyclonic sunspots that try to rob us of our light and heat, but all these things are still seen through a glass, darkly, and scientists believe they never probably can be forced to take the stand and lay bare their inmost secrets until the direction of pointing of the compass has been properly mapped all over the world.

BUY AT HOME SPEND YOUR MONEY IN MACLEOD

Purchases representing thousands of dollars are lost to us, to our trade, to our clerks and employees, to our laborers and artisans, to all the people of Macleod who exist on the products of their work. This money, if spent at home, would help to recreate Macleod financially, give a wider field of activities in business, would be helpful to every resident of this town.

If we purchased regularly from local merchants, this money would circulate in Macleod in a welcome manner. Our merchants merit our patronage; it is to our interest, and the duty of all of us to encourage the local merchant. He is one of us, he lives among us, he has the right to be encouraged by us, he is anxious to have our custom, and to give us satisfaction. We should under all circumstances give him preference, price for price, quality for quality. And nearly always the price that our local merchant asks is, if we compare the quality, just as cheap as that of the outside merchant.

Never purchase merchandise by catalogues from foreign houses before assuring yourself that you cannot procure the same articles, of the same quality (and frequently of better quality) at the same price from your local merchant.

CAPITAL GOSSIP AND PROV. NEWS

Corn Belt Moves North

The corn belt was definitely established 200 miles farther north on Wednesday, when what is destined to be known as the Alberta Provincial Corn Growers' Association held its first province-wide corn show at Lethbridge, with more than 2,500 ears of well-matured corn on exhibit, coming from 61 individual exhibitors covering territory from Medicine Hat to Lethbridge, north to Carmangay and to Bindloss and south to the Montana border.

Not only has the holding of this show, which was amazingly successful, brought the corn belt definitely into Alberta, but it has demonstrated the fact that in the feeding of stock from corn lies to a great extent the solution of the problems that confront South-Eastern Alberta. It is significant that this section of Alberta, drought-ridden and seemingly hopeless, swept the boards of prizes at the corn show. Hon. Geo. Hoadley, addressing the corn growers Wednesday, emphasized the hope that lay for the country in the raising of corn, and pointed to the example of Kansas which has been populated and depopulated three times, until finally corn-growing was found to a great extent to be the way out.

The first attempt to grow corn in Alberta was made at Bindloss, away north of Medicine Hat. This was two years ago, when the department of agriculture got seed for farmers in that district and encouraged them to try it out. At Wednesday's corn show Bindloss exhibitors were there and took prizes. Milk River, already in the corn belt for two years, was a big prize winner, but the glories went chiefly to the territory known as the dry belt, which is under the direct supervision of Jas. Murray, of the department of agriculture, and who is responsible for inducing many of the farmers to get into corn growing.

Provincial Organization

Following the show, a provincial corn growers' association was organized with Don Bark of Brooks, as president, and James Murray of Medicine Hat, as secretary. The next annual show will be held in Medicine Hat.

Hon. George Hoadley, in promising active support and encouragement of the department to the industry, said he would be prepared to go as far financially as appropriations would be voted him for the purpose. He pointed out that the solution of the dry area problems could not rest with the people who had lived there and who had asked to be moved out. These people could not make a success of there and were now located in places where they could make good. None of them had asked to go back, and none of them has asked for government help since settling in their new locations. It was the people who were to come to the district in future, who knew what to do and how to do it, that were going to drag success out of that country. Corn growing, he felt was largely providing the solution. Mr. Hoadley also mentioned his plan in this connection of making available large blocks of land for corn growing and stock feeding.

To the success of corn growing in the south and to the fact that the corn acreage has grown from 15,000 acres in 1922 to over 70,000 acres the past year, the credit largely goes to the efforts of the provincial department's agricultural agents at Lethbridge and Medicine Hat, M. L. Freng and James Murray, respectively.

Mr. Freng in the irrigated areas and Mr. Murray in the dry areas have proven the value of corn for either class of land, and the great profits to be made in feeding livestock of all kinds on this fodder.

It was predicted that in 10 years Alberta would be handling corn in car lots, and that in five years it would take a very large hand indeed to hold the corn growers at the annual meeting of the provincial association.

The Treeces, of Purple Springs, were very heavy winners in four or five classes, while exhibitors from Whittla, Medicine Hat, Orion and Redcliff were prominent in the lists. Brooks, Milk River, Carmangay, Empress and Sibbald also appeared.

Many Use Phone Service

Since the inauguration of the continent-wide telephone service from Alberta, the commercial end of the new service has developed rapidly, and many calls are now being put through every week for points as far east as New York and Montreal. The bulk of the traffic is however for points on the Pacific Coast, and in the western and middle states.

Big Enrolment in Correspondence Courses

The provincial department of education now has an enrolment of 570 pupils in the course in studies conducted by correspondence with the remote districts of the province where school facilities are not easily available.

Poultry Pool Starts

The new provincial poultry pool is now in operation. At present the product consigned to the pool is to be marketed through the provincial government marketing service, which service will be continued as in the past, under the direction of the provincial department of agriculture, and will be prepared to market any product consigned to it.

Alberta Exhibits Go East

The livestock and grain exhibits from Alberta to be shown at the Royal Show, Toronto, and at the International Show at Chicago, were sent forward last week under the direction of the department of agriculture. The department's representative at these exhibitions will be H. A. Craig, Deputy Minister of Agriculture.

AN ELOQUENT TRIBUTE TO ALBERTA AIR PILOT KILLED AT CAMP BORDEN

The "Airman," published at Camp Borden by the Royal Canadian Air Force contains a splendid tribute to Pilot Officer "Terry" T. G. C. Mathews, young Macleod, Alberta flier, who crashed to his death in his plane recently. Young Mathews, who was born in Macleod 25 years ago, had scores of friends in Southern Alberta and the West. His father, R. G. Mathews, was a well known old-time. Reel rebellion veteran and world war veteran. He and his wife now reside in Kalispell, Montana. The articles in the "Airman" follow:

The Late Pilot Officer T. G. C. Mathews

"It is with the deepest sorrow and regret, but at the same time with a great deal of pride, that we write this memorial to our chum, Terry Mathews. As we feel that the readers of the "Airman" had little opportunity to make his acquaintance, we hope this short biography will carry to all some idea of his short but brilliant life.

"Concerning his early life, we are not very well informed, but it will suffice to say that his first school days were spent in Macleod, Alberta. From there he went to University School, Victoria, B.C., and soon became prominent in every branch of sport, especially rugby, cricket and running. Terry was also interested in the Cadet Corps, and before he left became a perfect of the junior school.

"In 1919 he went to Trinity College School, Port Hope, where he spent one year learning Canadian rugby, preparing for R. M. C., and making himself popular with everyone.

Brilliant College Career

"The following year, 1920, Terry entered the Royal Military College, Kingston, Ont., and from the first he impressed us all with his ability as an athlete and as a class leader. He shone at riding, boxing, shooting, gymnastics and singing; and as a gymnast and shot he finished the first year second to none. In his second year he improved remarkably in all these lines, and turned out with the first rugby squad. Terry started his third year at R. M. C. as the fifth senior of his class, with the rank of corporal, and immediately proved that the staff was justified in selecting him as one of the class executives. He played on the first rugby team and made a lasting name for himself that year in theatricals, where he became an artist as well as a comedian. His last year at the R.M.C. was perhaps the biggest year there, when he assumed the roll of "B" company commander. In that position the real man came out in him, and he made a lasting reputation as a true company leader, both on parade and in sport. He won the cross-country race; became the best rider in his class; starred on the rugby team as quarter, and led his company to victory in the inter-company championship. Terry Mathews left behind him at R.M.C. a name that will never be forgotten.

Brief Civilian Life

"A few months after graduation we found him established in civilian life in the engineering department of the Canadian National Railways, Montreal. He could not keep away from rugby, and played the season with M.A.A.A. in the Big Four. Terry's year in Montreal was a happy one, and, as usual, he made himself lastingly popular with everyone he met. After nearly a year with the C.N.R. he decided that civilian life was not the place for him, and, as might be expected, he took the first opportunity of joining the Royal Canadian Air Force, making his first appearance at Camp Borden in August of this year.

"His activities here with us are well known to everyone, and it is unnecessary to say that the few months he spent as a pilot officer held every indication of a most promising future.

"In bringing this little biography to a close, the least we can say is that words are totally inadequate to describe the personality of a man like Terry Mathews, and only those that knew him can really appreciate him. He was an athlete, a soldier, a gentleman, true to the heart's core. What more can be said?

"His R. M. C. Comrades."

were visited this summer by seventy-five thousand bees to procure a pound of the famous honey put up by Mr. G. A. Deadman, expert apiarist, Brussels, Ontario.

If these bees ever get organized we shall be paying more money for their product.

In the meantime they are satisfied with very small wages, and you can obtain their delicious nectar at very little more than the cost of ordinary honey.

We are exclusive agents in Macleod for Deadman's Honey, and we have just received a new shipment in glass jars and in five and ten pound pails.

The reduced rate for natural gas becomes effective with November metre readings instead of after these readings as previously stated in The Times. It had not been considered likely by the Gas Company that all agreements would have been signed in time for the rate to become effective as above stated, but eventually in this connection have made possible the application of the reduction a month earlier than expected.

MOCK TOWN COUNCIL GREAT SUCCESS

The Brotherhood of Macleod United Church held the second big public event of the season on Tuesday night of this week when they staged a Mock Town Council in the town hall. As announced the proceeds of the affair will go to the funds of the band. As an evening of fun and frolic the event was a decided success.

As a preliminary to the evening the band played several selections in front of the hall after which an orchestra led in community singing in which the crowd joined heartily. A short program of special features included an orchestra selection, a string duet by J. Edgar and W. Griffin, a violin selection, "The Cockoo," by Mr. Neal, Roger Hunt sang "Spread a Little Gladness" and Alf Hart rendered "What do I Care" and a quartette of band instruments took well. Charlie Thomas' rendering of a saxophone solo on a mandolin, comb and paper, was the scream of the evening.

The council sessions were preceded by speeches in which three candidates for election appealed to the electorate. Mr. Greensk, the people's choice—nominated by the bunch made a very taking speech on the necessity of economy, but failed to chat with men in extreme suffragette style. Miss Yapper's part was ably taken by Alf Hart. The final returns of the election were reported as follows:

Mr. Greensk 16,570 votes.
Miss Yapper 1 vote (her own).

The Council was composed of Mayor H. V. Glarke and Councillors Greensk, Doudican, Maltby, Hunt and Thomas, with J. T. Doney acting as Secretary. During the meeting a report was received from Jas. Rothney, chief of police, who was ordered to get a new uniform on the Hutterite model and to visit Bill Fleming for a tonsorial operation. The member of the police staff that regulates the traffic on the corner of 24th and 3rd avenue was summoned before the council and "fired" for having been absent from duty since Halloween, but as the result of a heart rendering appeal by Councillor Greensk he was pardoned and given another chance. He will resume his place on the corner. McCausland reported for the Police and Fire Committee, and complained that 40 lbs of butter had been supplied to his department instead of axle grease. Councillor Greensk observed that the citizens had been served with grease in place of butter. Phil Brooks reported as Health Officer and A. F. Grady as Street Foreman. Greetings and best wishes were received by the Town Council, and suitable acknowledgements made.

Telegrams came from Premier King, the Mayor of Calgary, and George Wetherup. Bill Hart, as a flapper appeared before the council with a request that as her dog had been run over by a car and lost part of its tail, that she be granted a rebate on her dog license. A rebate of 15 cents was allowed.

A by-law was passed for the purchase of a steam roller to press out the electric current so that the citizens might procure it at a "flat" rate, and a heated argument arose between Councillors Greensk and Maltby over a bill for the purchase of five ribbons for the typewriter and other such heavy expenditure; a fist encounter ensued and the curtain dropped on a scene of confusion.

Further entertainments by the Brotherhood will be looked for with interest.
